

CONFERENCE DOMINATED BY TRUST CHARGE

Representatives of Equity Co-operative Exchange Spring Sensation on Farm Credits Meeting in Chicago.

DECLARED BIG INTERESTS RUNNING THE PROGRAM

Announced That Organization Is Under Way Which Will Truly Represent Producing Interests of the Country.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Chicago, April 15.—The national conference on farm credits and the Western Economic society were controlled by the big interests bent on dominating the farmer and preventing him from having effective co-operative organizations. It was charged on the floor of the convention today. Representatives of the Equity Co-operative exchange of Minneapolis, Minn., and the American Society of Equity attended the conference and insisted on being heard. H. G. Tank, secretary of the American society, and J. Weller Long, of the bureau of information of the society were the speakers. They were not on the regular program but were allowed to speak by vote of the conference. "The Western Economic society and the conference on farm credits refused to allow discussion of terminal grain markets because the Chicago board of trade and the Minneapolis chamber of commerce refuse to meet representatives of the farmers' co-operative movement in public discussion," declared Tank. "You call yourselves free friends of an open forum yet you base the stifling of free speech on an important public question on the refusal of a conscienceless monopoly to defend its position in public. The grain combine will never voluntarily meet in open discussion the producers whom they plunder. So long as farmers' conventions are dominated by special interests it will be impossible to get the monopolies into the open." "This conference is not made up of farmers nor by farmers," declared

Long. "We are doing all we can to further co-operation among the farmers and we look with suspicion on the activity of some here because of what they have been active in doing heretofore. There is going to be a real farmers' conference soon at which the farmers will have a chance to get a hearing."

Charles W. Holman, secretary of the conference, said the subjects brought up by Tank and Long were not the points being considered by the present conference. "This meeting," he said, "is dealing chiefly with problems of farm financing and co-operative organizations in relation to the anti-trust laws. The societies represented by Mr. Tank and Mr. Long and similar societies were canvassed to see if sufficient interest would be taken to justify a section devoted to their affairs, but it was found that we would better devote our efforts to other lines."

Marketing investigations by the federal government and possibilities of farmers making extended use of the parcel post in marketing were subjects of addresses by T. N. Carver and Charles J. Brand of the department of agriculture, which were delivered before Tank and Long obtained permission to address the conference.

Second Trial of Becker Set for May 6

Manion Succeeds Shay as Chief Counsel for Accused Police Commissioner Charged With Rosenthal Murder.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] New York, April 15.—Wednesday May 6 was tentatively fixed today for the beginning of the second trial of Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant, sentenced to die for investigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, but saved by a court of appeals decision. Becker appeared in court, brought over from the Tombs, while District Attorney Whitman asked that the new trial be called as soon as possible. It was announced that M. T. Manion had succeeded Joseph A. Shay as chief counsel for Becker. District Attorney Whitman is determined to bring Becker to trial for a second time, at as early a date as possible. It was expected that his motion before justice Seabury in the supreme court today would be opposed by Becker on the ground that his trial attorney was about to retire from the defense and that new counsel would need more time in which to become familiar with the case.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salt if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our food is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, let from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid, to dissolve uric acid in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

The plaintiff seeks to recover for injuries alleged to have been sustained by a fall through an open trap door in one of the defendant's cars. The plaintiff's case was under way this afternoon.

Only two or three cases on the civil docket remain for trial by jury, and Judge Reynolds expects to discharge the petit jurors next week. None of the criminal cases this term went to a trial before the jury. The docket was cleaned of criminal cases set for jury trial yesterday when Juan de Dios Chavez pleaded guilty.

The case of Goldsmith brothers against Hachechi and Glioni set for Saturday. The case of Benjamin Spence against the Mora Timber company is the last. It will come to trial next week. Upon its conclusion, Judge Reynolds will discharge the jury.

MRS. HELMAR, MISS FRANCHINI AND AN ORDINANCE

Counsel Says Latter Was Fractured when Woman Accused Girl of Stealing Clothes from Suitcase.

PINONS WEAPON OF INJURED INNOCENCE

Under an ordinance aimed to prevent the use of language liable to incite disorder, E. B. Helmar and his wife, of South High street, were arraigned in the police court this morning on a charge preferred by Miss Fannie Franchini. The charge resulted from an accusation of theft by Mrs. Helmar against Miss Franchini.

Mr. and Mrs. Helmar came here from Memphis in February and took a room at the Savoy hotel. Fannie Franchini worked at the hotel at that time. A week later they left the hotel.

The night before last Mr. and Mrs. Helmar encountered Miss Franchini on Central avenue. Mrs. Helmar stopped the girl and charged her with taking clothes from a suitcase while they were at the hotel. That, according to Thomas Wilkerson, counsel for the complainant, is where Mrs. Helmar ran afoul of the ordinance. And that, according to the testimony of everybody in the case, is where a disturbance undoubtedly started.

The testimony showed that Miss Franchini became highly excited and hysterical. She had been munching pinon nuts when Mrs. Helmar encountered her, and she threw the pinons in her accusatory face. And she used a swear word, according to Mrs. Lena Hachechi, one of the witnesses, and hoped fervently aloud that Mrs. Helmar would die. Mrs. Helmar herself said Fannie threatened to kill her.

Mrs. Lena Hachechi and Miss Hachechi were going by in their automobile when the excitement was starting. They are friends of Miss Franchini and she ran to their car and told them what was happening. Mrs. Hachechi and her chauffeur, Toni Divoli, were witnesses for Miss Franchini. They agreed that she was decidedly wrought up.

William Meacham, proprietor of the Savoy, testified to Fannie's good character during the seven years she was employed at the hostelry.

Mrs. Helmar, on the stand, said she was certain Fannie had taken the clothes, because she not only was supposed to be the only one with access to the room at the hotel, but "she is just my size!"

"I didn't miss the things until a few days ago," said Mrs. Helmar, "because they were summer clothes and I had no occasion to look for them until then. I didn't call her a thief. I told her she took my things and I wanted them back. I said 'You took my clothes and you know it, and she never denied it once until she came here this morning. But I did not call her a thief.'"

Mr. Helmar corroborated his wife's testimony.

Mr. Wilkerson, in summing up, said it was a plain violation of the ordinance. The accusation was one well calculated to incite disorder, he said, and as a matter of fact the testimony showed that there was disorder as a result of it.

Harold Pierce, counsel for the Helmars, contended that Mrs. Helmar spoke to the witness in no spirit of contentiousness nor with any desire to provoke an outburst; the testimony showed, he held, that she really sought to recover her property quietly and without trouble.

Judge Craig took the case under advisement until tomorrow morning.

MRS. HALMAR, MISS FRANCHINI AND AN ORDINANCE TO MAKE GREAT SHOWING OF MINERALS

President Fayette Jones of State School of Mines Has Splendid Line Up for San Diego Display.

WILL SPECIALIZE ON COAL AND FIRE CLAY

Two of State's Greatest Resources, He Says This Morning on Return from Trip to Gallup Mines and Beds.

Dr. Fayette A. Jones, president of the State School of Mines at Socorro, arrived in Albuquerque this morning from Gallup, where he has been for the past two days arranging for a huge shipment of specially selected coal and also for fire clay, to form an important part of the state's mineral exhibit at the San Diego exposition. Dr. Jones left at 8:30 for Socorro.

The exposition commission has decided that, having secured an expert known throughout the west to manage its exhibit, it will give much more space to the mineral display than had been intended originally. The general mineral display probably will be built of its own materials, outside the main New Mexico building, which is a reproduction of the ancient mission church at Acoma.

"Our plan contemplates a large display of the coals and fire clays of the state," said Dr. Jones this morning, "believing them to be two of the state's most important mineral resources. I have just concluded arrangements with the mine managers at Gallup for a huge display of selected coals. They have been glad to meet us more than half way in this matter. New Mexico coal is in large demand on the Pacific coast; it is, in fact, the logical outlet for any surplus that may occur in our state production, and the display at San Diego, as we now plan it, will be an advertisement that will have a ready money value. I expect the same cooperation from the mine owners at Cerillos, Dawson and around Haton, and will make the first real showing of the mighty coal resources of the state."

"The New Mexico Fire Brick company at Gallup is going to furnish a large supply of fire clay, as well as finished products, and we will lay stress on the extent of the clay beds of the state. From Silver City will come a big copper display, and we will also give plenty of space to lead and zinc, gold and silver, and iron ores. Also I expect to make a complete collection of the rarer ores, and will have a showing of which the state will be proud. I believe, also, it will have an immediate effect in encouraging mineral development in all our mineralized sections."
